How to configure the system to send e-mails

To configure the application to send e-mails you need to do the following:

1. Define an intelligent business object representing the addressee of the e-mail with the communication channel of the “e-mail” type (see the “Defining Intelligent Business Objects” section).
2. Define a notification representing a particular e-mail (see “Sending Outgoing E-mail” section).
3. Define a business rule that would use the SEND action to send e-mail under particular circumstances – see the description of the SEND Action in the AwareIM Rule Language Reference.

See also the “Outgoing E-mail” section.
